L^AT_EX FOR DUMMIES

A Workshop hosted by Stephen Hu

Dept. of Mathematics, Rutgers University

ABSTRACT:

Ever wondered how math papers look so fancy? Want to know how to make your homework the spiffiest looking in the class, inciting intense jealousy in classmates and friends alike? Come learn L^AT_EX, the coolest document typesetter around. In this workshop, we'll walk you through getting L^AT_EX set up and creating your first document. By the end, you will know enough to start typesetting your homeworks, and make your graders eternally thankful. Bring a friend, and definitely bring a laptop.
